BRITISH FIGHT ACROSS LOWER GARIGLIANO

BRIDGEHEADS ARE SECURED BY FIFTH ARMY

Troops of Lt. Gen. Clark Advance Under Intense Mortar and Machine-gun Fire To Cross River

GUSTAV LINE IS PROBED

By WES GALLAGHER
Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Jan. 19.—(P)—British troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army, advancing under intense mortar and machine-gun fire, have crossed the lower Garigliano river at three points converging on the ancient Apennine way, for centuries the main coastal highway to Rome.

The attack was launched at 3 p. m. Monday, Allied headquarters announced today, and all three bridgeheads were secured despite violent enemy resistance which included a rain of fire on the river itself, 80 miles southeast of Rome.

The first crossing was made near Suoi, a village seven miles inland from the Tyrrhenian coast and located on a hill 500 yards beyond the river. Headquarters said heavy fighting still is in progress there.

The second bridgehead was established along the railroad running from Capua to Rome, four miles from the coast.

The third was at Argento, almost on the coast itself, where the Germans countered with a tank attack in a desperate but futile effort to drive the British back across the river.

The German high command said several Allied divisions had launched a strong attack in Italy "east of the Gulf of Gaeta" where fighting was continuing in full force, the Garigliano empties into the Gulf of Gaeta.

The new offensive on the coastal lowlands came while American and French troops probed vigorously at the so-called Gustav Line around Cassino, 20 miles inland from the mouth of the Garigliano.

American paratroops already had crossed the Rapido river in the Cassino area, but were forced to return with reports that the Germans apparently were concentrating their defenses for one of the most furious battles since the fall of Naples. French forces operating in the mountains on the right flank of the Americans increased their bag of prisoners to 600 in 18 days.

Canadian troops advanced against fierce opposition to take strategic objectives, but then were forced to withdraw by German counterattacks and headquarters said the Canadians still are engaged in heavy fighting.

Woman Recluse Has $57,000 in Safe

Philadelphia, Jan. 19.—(P)—A woman recluse who died in her hall bungalow in West Cape May, N. J., in December, 1942, was discovered today to have had $57,000, mostly in cash, in a safe deposited here.

The woman, Mrs. Annie Schenck, made her living by carving and for musical instruments. On her death police found $850 in gold coins hidden in her home. A will and later led police to a Philadelphia bank—and her fortune.

The will gave all of her estate to the Women's Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The Animal Rescue League and the Vivisection Investigation League of New. Eight brothers and sisters protest, saying she executed the document while incompetent.

A settlement gives one-fourth of the estate to the relatives and the rest to the charities.

Modest Missouri Aviator Is Hailed as 'One-Man Airforce'

London, Jan. 19.—(P)—Maj. James H. Howard of St. Louis, a former "Flying Tiger" who outfought 30 Nazi fighters in a flaming half-hour battle over Oeschersleben last Tuesday to protect a formation of Flying Fortresses, was hailed by his Mustang pilot-mates today as a "one-man airforce," but he merely said facetiously, "I just seen what looked like my duty and I done it."

The 30-year-old, six-foot-four Missouri buzz-sawed devastatingly into the swarm of Nazis during one of history's greatest air battles to become America's first air-hero of both the Pacific and His exploit rivals for sheer drama the feat of the missing Lt. Comdr. Edward H. (Butch) O'Hare, who single-handedly tackled nine Japanese dive-bombers, knocking at least six into the sea, and elevates him to the distinguished and growing roll of American air heroes.

Although the battle was seen by the crews of the Flying Fortresses he was protecting, the identity of the lone pilot remained uncertain for a week, because of the reluctance of various Mustang pilots in claiming victories. Today, however, the U. S. Eighth Air Force Command singled out Maj. Howard as the hero.

Howard was credited officially with two Nazi planes destroyed, two probables and one damaged in reports compiled after the raid, but bomber crews insisted they had seen the lone American fighter shoot down six enemy aircraft.

A.P. To Appeal Judgment In Anti-Trust Suit

New York, Jan. 19.—(P)—The federal court judgment in the government's civil anti-trust suit against The Associated Press, non-profit news cooperative, will be appealed to the United States supreme court.

The association's board of directors announced the step last night, declaring in a statement that "no newspaper, no press service, can operate successfully under a court injunction."

The judgment, which would restrain the P perpetually from observing by-laws under which members might consider the competitive ability of an applicant for membership, already is under temporary stay. The appeal, to be taken "without delay," will stay it pending the highest court's ruling.

By coincidence, the directors' statement was adopted about the time that President Roosevelt said at his press-radio conference in Washington that he did not think he wanted to comment on the judgment. The board at the time of its action did not know of the president's conference, nor did the president know when asked for comment that the P board had decided on an appeal.

When asked whether he had noted the judgment, the president inquired whether the supreme court had handed it down and what was new about it. Later, he smiled and asked: Does the country club still exist?

ADDITIONAL STATE INSTITUTIONS URGED

Harrisburg, Jan. 19.—(P)—A proposal of additional state institutions for mental defectives as one means of curbing an increase in juvenile delinquency is before a commonwealth legislative committee studying the problem.

Judge Robert E. Woodside, Jr., of the Dauphin county court, told legislators at a hearing yesterday the need for such institutions was of utmost importance and asserted several juveniles committed to existing institutions by Dauphin county five years ago "haven't been admitted yet."

He added a more flexible delinquency law, permitting judges to use discretion in sentencing minors to jail or detention homes, also would help. At present, he said, youths from 16 to 18 go to jail while those under 16 are sent to homes.

RAIL SYSTEMS BACK IN HANDS OF OPERATORS

Settlement of Wage Dispute Followed By Warning of Critical Manpower Problem

$240,000,000 ANNUALLY

By JACKSON S. ELLIOTT
Washington, Jan. 19.—(P)—The nation's rail transportation system was back in the hands of private operators today but Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) warned that it still faces a critical manpower problem.

President Roosevelt announced settlement of the wage dispute, with raises all around, late yesterday, and War Secretary Stimson thereupon ordered the seized railroads returned to their owners, effective at midnight.

The roads, once threatened by labor disputes of the 350,000 members of five operating unions and of 1,100,000 non-operating workers, including shippers, clerks and others, were taken over by the government on Dec. 27, three days before a strike-call deadline.

The settlement and some earlier agreements, which labor and management sources estimated would cost the roads more than $350,000,000 annually, plus retroactive pay awards, provide generally for increases of nine cents an hour to the operating workers and increases of from nine to 11 cents for the non-ops.

The 15 non-op unions originally had asked for 20 cents an hour more and the operating brotherhoods a 30 percent hike, or $3 a day, whichever might be greater.

In his announcement, Secretary Stimson said the agreements, which were approved by Wage Stabilization Director Vinson, "provide assurance that there will be no stoppage of rail service and that the employees of the roads will continue to discharge their responsibilities faithfully and conscientiously so that there may be no diminution in the rising tide of our military might."

Senator Wheeler, however, who is chairman of the senate Interstate Commerce Committee, said the military draft and the lure of higher wages in war industry are thinning personnel ranks to dangerous levels.

Defense Setup May Be Used In Peace Time

By RALPH E. WALLIS
Harrisburg, Jan. 19.—(P)—Governor Martin's flood emergency committee took steps today to continue Pennsylvania's far-flung Civilian Defense setup after the war for duty in any peace-time disasters.

James A. Kell, secretary of forests and waters and committee chairman, declared the emergency group has accepted an offer of the State Defense Council for use of personnel in case of need.

The governor's flood emergency committee was set up during the 1936 floods by former Governor George H. Earle and has operated from the offices of the secretary of forests and waters ever since. It is composed of members of the governor's cabinet and officials of state departments.

The committee, Kell said, first used Civilian Defense facilities during flash floods of 1942 when it activated about one-third of county control centers in warning, evacuation and relief work.

Typewriters Figure In Probe of Letter

Washington, Jan. 19.—(P)—Two typewriters assumed a mysterious role in the "Hopkins letter thriller" today as a federal grand jury resumed its exploration of the latest Washington political drama to involve men in high places.

The typewriters were taken from the office of George N. Briggs, confidential assistant to Interior Secretary Ickes, but federal agents declined to say whether they were being examined in connection with the case.

Briggs, 55-year-old former newspaper man, who has been pictured on the senate floor as a go-between in publication of the disputed "Hopkins letter," meanwhile was suspended by Ickes without pay pending the outcome of the investigation.

The grand jury, reassembling after a respite of several days, is seeking to determine whether Harry L. Hopkins was correct in asserting that his name was forged to a typewritten letter predicting Wendell L. Willkie's renomination for the presidency.

Lord Halifax Mystified By Pravda Story

British Ambassador Confers With Secretary Hull Concerning Rumor

DENIAL IS BROADCAST

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Jan. 19.—(P)—Lord Halifax, British ambassador conferred with Secretary of State Hull today concerning Pravda's publication of rumors of a "separate peace" talk between two British and Nazi Foreign Minister Van Ribbentrop.

Halifax, it was apparent, was just as much mystified by the Pravda incident as President Roosevelt professed himself to be yesterday at his news conference.

The fact that the Russians now have given widespread publication to an official British denial of the rumored meeting has occasioned considerable interest here, though not producing any new theories of why the rumor was printed in the authoritative Communist party publication in the first place.

Hull and Halifax also talked briefly about the African offer to Moscow to seek resumption of Russo-Polish diplomatic relations.

London, Jan. 19.—(P)—British newspapers, which yesterday expressed high indignation over Pravda's publication of a rumor of British-German peace talks, appeared placated today by the Moscow radio's broadcast of the official British denial.

At the same time, Moscow dispatches said British and American in the Soviet capital also expressed relief at the broadcast, which went to the whole national and was transmitted to the Russian press.

The London Daily Mail, which yesterday called the Communist organ's account "an insult to the British people," headlined its story today: "Peace Lie Is Now Dead." The News Chronicle said the Germans were spreading peace talk rumors, "hoping to gain respite."

Steel Controversy In Lap of W. L. B.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 19.—(P)—The demands of the CIO-United Steelworkers of America for a 17-cents an hour wage increase in the steel industry, which would break the "Little Steel" wage formula, was headed today for the War Labor Board.

A spokesman for the five subsidiaries of the U. S. Steel Corporation announced last night Secretary of Labor Perkins has been asked to certify the negotiations between the corporation and the union to the board for a hearing.

John A. Stephens, vice president of U. S. Steel, declared the union's 43 proposals would cost the corporation alone about $180,000,000 annually, or $9 a ton for finished steel.

A spokesman for Philip Murray, president of the steelworkers, said there would be no comment at this time on the move.

JAPS STALKED IN JUNGLES BY U. S. INDIANS

Skilled Tribesmen of Arizona and New Mexico End Stalemate At Invaded Arawe

BREAK ENEMY DEFENSES

Advanced Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, Jan. 19.—(P)—Knifing American Indians of 20 tribes, backed by such modern components of war as tanks and bombing planes, are stalking Japanese in the tropical jungles of New Britain.

Proud of their ability to thread through the dense growth, these skilled tribesmen of Arizona and New Mexico ended a stalemate Sunday at invaded Arawe on the southwest coast, by breaking through main enemy defenses to such depth that field guns were captured.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported the success today.

Each equipped with several knives as well as pistol and rifle, these Indians, forming part of the 15th Regiment of "Bushmasters," penetrated 1,000 yards through enemy lines while the Japanese still were groggy from an 87-ton air bombardment.

Pilots of Liberators and Mitchells, striking so close to the American lines they had to be guided by a ground smoke screen in distinguishing positions, said the bombing was the most concentrated one yet unleashed in the jungles.

The "Bushmasters," whose ability to transmit secret communications in tribal tongues should prove baffling to the Japanese, were sent to Panama during the early days of the war to become the first American troops trained in jungle tactics.

Last April they left the Canal Zone and on June 30 first appeared in the southwest Pacific war zone. Unopposed, they occupied Kirivina Island in the Trobriand group, off the southeastern tip of New Guinea. It was from there they moved in to reinforce the Texas dismounted cavalrymen who opened the invasion of New Britain at Arawe last December 15.

Countering this, American military leaders said there had been no Japanese attack in force, but that the enemy's main positions were known and "we can fight there any time we want it." Sunday the "Bushmasters" wanted it. The attack was directed by Brig. Gen. Julian Cunningham.

State Farmers Are Praised In Martin Speech

Harrisburg, Jan. 19.—(P)—Pennsylvania farmers, members of 14 state-wide agricultural organizations in session today, turned to consideration of food production problems with the good wishes of Governor Martin, who said they did "an outstanding job in 1943."

"For the full years of warfare our farmers and their wives, their sons and their daughters have worked longer hours than any other group of Americans," asserted the governor in a speech formally opening the 28th annual Pennsylvania Farm Show last night.

Several thousand farmers came here for 27 meetings throughout the day, held in place of the usual exhibitions of livestock and produce suspended for the duration due to the army's use of the farm show building.

Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst earlier announced a Farm Show Commission Committee, headed by Deputy Agriculture Secretary W. S. Hagar, will plan for renewal of such exhibitions after the war. Other members are J. M. Fry, Pennsylvania State College and George W. Slocum, Milton.

Second Day of Campaign Finds Many Quotas Being Met

Washington, Jan. 19.—(P)—The Fourth War Loan drive moved into its second day today with further reports of quotas being met and passed in scattered sections of the country, and with the nation advised by President Roosevelt that "every dollar invested in bonds is an addition to our offensive power, a contribution to our future happiness and security."

"Until we have actually occupied Berlin and Tokyo," said Mr. Roosevelt in a statement last night following the first official sale to Vice President Wallace, "we cannot indulge for a moment in the pleasant day dream that the war is almost over."

"Our most difficult military operations are ahead of us, not behind us." Meanwhile the treasury has figured out today it costs the government just one-thirty-third of a cent for every dollar it takes in from War Bond buyers.

That includes not only the paper and printing bill for millions of pamphlets, posters and stickers paid all salaries and other expenses paid in connection with bond sales. It does not include some $220,000,000 worth of newspaper, radio and other advertising contributed since the bonds went on sale May 1, 1941.

Soviets Start New Offensive to End Siege of Leningrad

Simultaneous Assaults Launched By Two Neighboring Armies Several Days Apart To Break Strong Enemy Defense Lines

NO SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES ANNOUNCED AS TAKEN

BULLETIN
London, Jan. 19.—(P)—Russian troops, tearing a great hole into Nazi defenses on the Leningrad front, have advanced seven to 12½ miles and captured the fortress town of Krasnoye Selo, 15 miles southwest of Leningrad, Marshal Joseph Stalin announced today.

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Moscow, Jan. 19.—(P)—Red army forces on the Leningrad and Volkhov fronts in northern Russia sprang forward today in a new offensive calculated to end the German siege of Leningrad, second city of the Soviet Union.

Two neighboring army groups, it was disclosed, launched simultaneous assaults several days ago to break through strong German defense lines and are now developing their drives on a large scale. (Previous German broadcasts indicated the new Russian attacks began last Friday.)

No specific objectives have as yet been announced as captured, but in that thickly-populated and heavily-fortified area a few yards or miles of ground rank as important as some cities and towns in other more open sectors.

The fact that the launching of the offensive could be announced was taken to mean that it is proceeding successfully.

Russian troops on the Leningrad front began their push south of the suburban town of Oranienbaum, 20 miles west of the city adjoining Peterhof, known as the Versailles of Russia and the former home of the czars.

At the same time Red army forces on the Volkhov front attacked north of Novgorod, 100 miles southeast of Leningrad between Lake Ilmen and the Baltic. The twin operations appeared to have been planned jointly to break the German semi-circle around (Turn to Page Eleven)

Fog, Smoke Still Envelope Sections

Pittsburgh, Jan. 19.—(P)—Fog and smoke, so bad in suburban Homewood the folks had to put out candles on the street to help travelers, blanketed most of western Pennsylvania last night and early today.

The weather observer reported the "smog" the heaviest in years. All air traffic was grounded. The railroads reported trains running far behind time. Taxi drivers quit work in many cases because of the danger of driving.

Residents of Forest Hills, Penn. Township, and other sections near Wilkensburg, left their cars in that town and walked home.

State police at such widely separated points as Greensburg and Beaver said the almost impenetrable mixture virtually halted all highway traffic.

Scores of war plants reported thousands of workers were late, some as much as an hour.

Philadelphia, Jan. 19.—(P)—Philadelphia's 3,000 striking public works department employees were ready to extend their walkout to an even two weeks today after a conference between union representatives and Mayor Bernard Samuel brought no results.

The mayor met yesterday with Thomas Mallon, regional director of the American Federation of Labor. The city, the mayor said, intends to stick by its offer of a four-cents-an-hour wage increase. The strikers have refused to return to work until they get a 10-cents-an-hour raise.

Two Dead In Fire At McConnellsburg

McConnellsburg, Jan. 19.—(P)—State police today sought to learn the identity of a man, believed to be a Maryland truck driver, whose body was recovered from the ruins of the historic Fulton House, where Miss Elsie Greethead, 76, a retired school teacher, also burned to death.

The aged woman's body was found a few hours after flames destroyed the three-story structure Monday but that of the second victim, an overnight hotel guest, was not discovered by firemen until yesterday.

State Policeman Donald Harris said the man was believed to be the same person who left a tire to be repaired at a local garage the night before the fire, but never called for it. Harris added a truck the victim is believed to have left parked near here has been identified as belonging to Keway Brothers, of Railroad, York county.

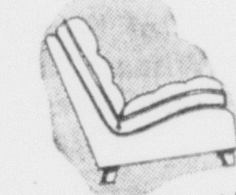

Fire Chief Cleveland reported the body, fully clothed but badly burned, was found in a bathroom with all means of identification destroyed.

Zonta Club Urges Members To Attend Luncheon Meeting To Plan March of Dimes Drive

Every member of the Warren Zonta Club is asked to be present for the luncheon-meeting to be held at 12:15 p. m. Thursday at the YWCA activities building, since President Jessie Davidson will make announcement concerning final plans for the "March of Times Tag Day" to be held Saturday for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Zontians have again accepted the responsibility for conducting the annual Warren county solicitation for the Foundation, which started nationally on January 14 and ends with the celebration of President Roosevelt's birthday anniversary on the 30th.

Girls of this community and of others nearby will conduct the tag day sales and solicitations and for their efforts the club will provide special awards of $2.50 for the greatest sum collected and $1 for the second high. Equal prizes are given both borough and rural canvassers, so that each group will be out on Saturday to attain the record.

Officers of the Warren County Chapter, as well as Zontians have been asked what happens when a person is stricken with infantile paralysis, how the National Foundation operates. The answer is provided in these few words:

"If you are suddenly stricken with infantile paralysis, regardless of who, what or where you are in the United States or its possessions, the National Foundation will provide medical and surgical care, hospitalization, orthopedic equipment, an iron lung if necessary, and whatever other supplies and materials are needed to give you the best care and treatment possible. At the same time, to reduce the possibility of your being stricken, the National Foundation is sponsoring a program of scientific research to find the cause, cure and prevention of the dread disease."

New Record Total of Blood Donors At Bank on Tuesday

A record breaking total of 230 donors appeared at the Blood Bank yesterday making donations totaling 211 pints of blood. Only 19 rejections were encountered and but few cancellations.

It marked the busiest day in the history of the Mobile Units visit to Warren and is a record that will not be equaled soon again. Every period of the afternoon and early evening was filled.

Two more service men, home on furlough, made donations; three members of the local staff of the State Police and employees of the Warren Axe and Tool Company took two full periods of the Blood Bank's time.

Members of the Blood Bank Committee are pleased with the turn out yesterday. They hope it means increased interest in the next visit of the Blood Bank to Warren on February 14th and 15th.

Despite the fine showing made the past two days there remains a real need for additional volunteers. In February, these who last gave in October will be called. To complement this group of names it will be necessary to schedule some first time donors, those who have not as yet signed application blanks. Persons wishing to volunteer for donations may do so now and be assured of an appointment in February if they so desire. Blanks are to be had at any drug store or one may apply direct to Red Cross Headquarters at 404 Market street.

Sheffield Physician New Head Of County Medical Society

With 27 members and one guest attending the annual meeting of Warren County Medical Society Tuesday afternoon at the YWCA activities building, the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Robert L. Taylor, of Sheffield; first vice president, Gail K. Riedelberger; second vice president, W. E. Biddle; secretary-treasurer, Hilding Bengt, re-elected.

Reports of the secretary-treasurer for the past year showed that in spite of difficulties, 25 per cent of the active membership, 13 out of 52, in military service and changes in meeting time and place, the meetings have been well attended and programs interesting.

The retiring president, E. R. Anderson, reviewed the state of affairs of the medical profession in general; pleaded for greater efforts on the part of individual members to guard the interests of the members in service and to continue to serve the community in such a way that medical science may be allowed to advance without political interference and the public receive the benefits of health service in the future as it has in the past; a service that no country can boast of and one that has reduced the mortality and morbidity to a very low degree and yet permitted freedom of choice and initiative of enterprise.

Dr. Anderson concluded his address with a summary of what has been found valuable and what of no value in the treatment of upper respiratory troubles, with special reference to newer chemicals and drugs.

Dinner followed, for which Doctors M. V. and W. L. Ball, Elizabeth S. Beatty, E. S. Briggs and O. S. Brown were sponsors.

HOME NURSING INSTRUCTION SOON

The local Red Cross Chapter announces a class in home nursing will be held at Red Cross headquarters, with Mrs. Marion Robertson as instructor and instruction starting as soon as sufficient enrollments have been received. Those wishing to register for the class are asked to call headquarters, 2926.

WILL HOLD FOX HUNT

The Warren Field & Stream Club announces a fox hunt to be held next Sunday in an area between Russell and Scandia. The area was studied last week-end by a committee of six and has been well planned. Warren sportsmen will meet at Finley's Store at 10:00 o'clock so cars can be used to best advantage. They will arrive in Russell at 10:15 where they will meet sportsmen from that area, and any others who find it more convenient to meet them in Russell.

PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX

The County Commissioners announce that Personal Property Taxes are now due. They should be paid before February 15. Taxables who have not received forms can secure them from their bank or the County Commissioners' office. If assistance is required it can be secured at the Tax Office in the court house and affidavits will be taken either by the local assessor or the tax clerk at the Court House.

Seek Recruits For CPA Unit This Evening

Lt. Warren Stone, commander of Squadron 53, today expressed a desire for new recruits for the local unit of the Civil Air Patrol. Many vacancies have occurred in the ranks of the Warren group and new members are needed for replacements.

To become a member of the Civil Air Patrol, a person must be a citizen of the United States and at least 18 years of age. A prospective member must have an interest in aviation but need not have had any special training. Physical requirements are simple: Any person in good health is eligible for membership.

Civil Air Patrol activities are many. A continuous training program for personnel, recruiting air cadets for the Army Air Forces, courier service, coast patrol, forest patrol and flight training missions are only a few of the jobs given the CAP.

It is hoped that all persons interested in applying for membership in the CAP will make a special effort to be present in the small court room at the court house between eight and ten o'clock this evening.

Hundred Thousand Women Give Time to the Red Cross

Women of Pennsylvania, 129,125 strong, are contributing their time and their work to the nation's war effort, according to statistics given C. J. Cray, chairman of the Warren County Red Cross Chapter, by Ramone S. Eaton, manager of the eastern area.

These women gave 4,871,107 hours of service in the varied activities of the Volunteer Special Services program of the American Red Cross during the three-month period July 1-September 30, 1943. This service was added to the 16,148,362 hours that 182,427 volunteers worked in the fiscal year ending June 30.

"If these statistics for the last fifteen months mean anything, it is that the American women in this and in every other state can be depended on to work—and work hard—in the interest of victory," according to the statement from Eastern Area headquarters at Alexandria, Va., to the local chapter. "In the new year there must be no decline in enthusiasm of the effort by which civilian men and women, through the American Red Cross, are responding to the needs of a nation at war."

Pennsylvania Red Cross production during the months July 1-September 30 maintained the level attained in the preceding fiscal year, Chairman Cray pointed out. During the quarter year the state's chapters made 266,459 garments, 481 layettes and 56,967 miscellaneous articles. Much of this production has gone to aid men in the armed forces and into the Red Cross program of civilian war relief abroad. Pennsylvania chapters made 10,279,155 surgical dressings, which go to the Army and the Navy, and 47,111 kit bags, the kind that go to American fighting men at ports of embarkation.

Also during the three months Pennsylvania canteen workers served more than 300,000 meals. Dietitian Aide Corps members

Warren Man Discusses Waste Of Man Hours Over Nation

Friends of Prof. Robert D. Gray, son of Mrs. Clara Gray, Onondaga avenue, will read with considerable interest the following from the Pasadena, Calif., Star-News:

"Forty million man-years of work in factories are necessary to complete the job of supplying the Nation and its Allies with the weapons and tools needed for victory.

"Unless something is done about it, 10,000,000 of these man-years will be wasted.

"And, in Pasadena at the California Institute of Technology something is being done about it, under the direction of Prof. Robert D. Gray, head of the courses in Industrial Relations and Production Engineering.

"Already more than 3000 men and women from the nearby war factories have taken the courses with new classes to be formed Jan. 17. The classes are possible by means of co-operation by the labor unions, the industries and individuals.

"Wasted effort, says Professor Gray, is inexcusable in peacetime—and, in wartime it is dangerous.

"Conservation of effort, short-cuts for the making of little things in factories and simplification of work efforts, are being discovered daily in the factories by the men and women who know best the things that are wrong. The students at the Caltech evening classes, among many other things, are taught to become 'detectives' of wasted energy and, more important probably, the ability to instill in other workers the spirit of the explorer, or that of the inventor.

"The total result, in busy war-time Southern California, it is being proved, is a reduction in wasted man-years and a speedup in the making and shipment of planes, guns and other war materials to the battlefronts.

"Professor Gray was brought to the California Institute of Technology from his post as assistant professor of economics at the University of Connecticut three years ago.

"He was born at Warren, Pa., graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1930 and continued part-time graduate work at the university, including research in industry at Wharton School of Finance and Commerce and in 1937 joined the faculty of the University of Connecticut. He was special research assistant, just prior to his coming to Pasadena, for the Life Office Management Association, New York City.

"He served as vice-chairman, Committee on Prices in the Bituminous Coal Industry, Conference on Price Research, National Bureau of Economic Research; as secretary, Connecticut Chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management, and faculty ad-

The police have accordingly been sent out to bring in violators and drivers and bike riders will do well to watch their driving practices.

MEN'S BROTHERHOOD

The Men's Brotherhood of First Lutheran church will hold its initial meeting of the new year at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the church parlors, with Lee Zeiders and other newly elected officers in charge. The men will have the pleasure of hearing a message by Rev. Wayne Furman, First Methodist minister. All men of the parish are cordially invited.

WELL-BRED YEARLING SOLD

Pleasant Fields Harness Horse Farm, R. D. 1, Warren, Pa., has just sold to a Southington, Conn., patron what was probably one of the best standard bred colts to have been handled in this section in many years. This colt was well broken and trained to an eighth of a mile in 18 seconds on the trot in sixty days education. This was inducement enough for the buyer to pay a substantial price for one of this kind. W. E. Gilson handles and trains these youngsters and also has charge of the other horse holdings at Pleasant Fields.

INJURED IN CRASH

Miss Justina Siggins, 76, of West Hickory, well known in this city and Miss Marie Colosimo also of West Hickory, are in the Titusville hospital suffering from injuries received in an automobile crash. Their car left the road near Pleasantville and crashed into an embankment. Miss Siggins had a laceration on the chin and neck and lost much blood. She also has a broken right arm in two places and is suffering from shock. Miss Colosimo sustained chest injuries as she was thrown against the steering wheel. The car was badly damaged.

The parents had an opportunity to learn and practice the Bobcat requirements. During the coming week these will be taught to the boys in their own homes by their own parents. The bobcat is the first achievement in the ranks of Cubbing and involves the boys knowing the law of the pack, the Cub promise, the salute, Cub sign, secret hand-clasp, the meaning of Webelos (the great Indian Tribe which forms the background of Cubbing symbolism) and the secret Cub code.

The program for next Thursday night's meeting will cover a general explanation of the various achievement ranks of Cubbing, the set up of the Den and Pack, and duties of the various leaders, the program of the monthly Pack meeting and how to finance the Pack. This meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Thursday January 20 at the Grace M. E. church. Parents of all Cub-age boys in the area served by the church are invited to be present.

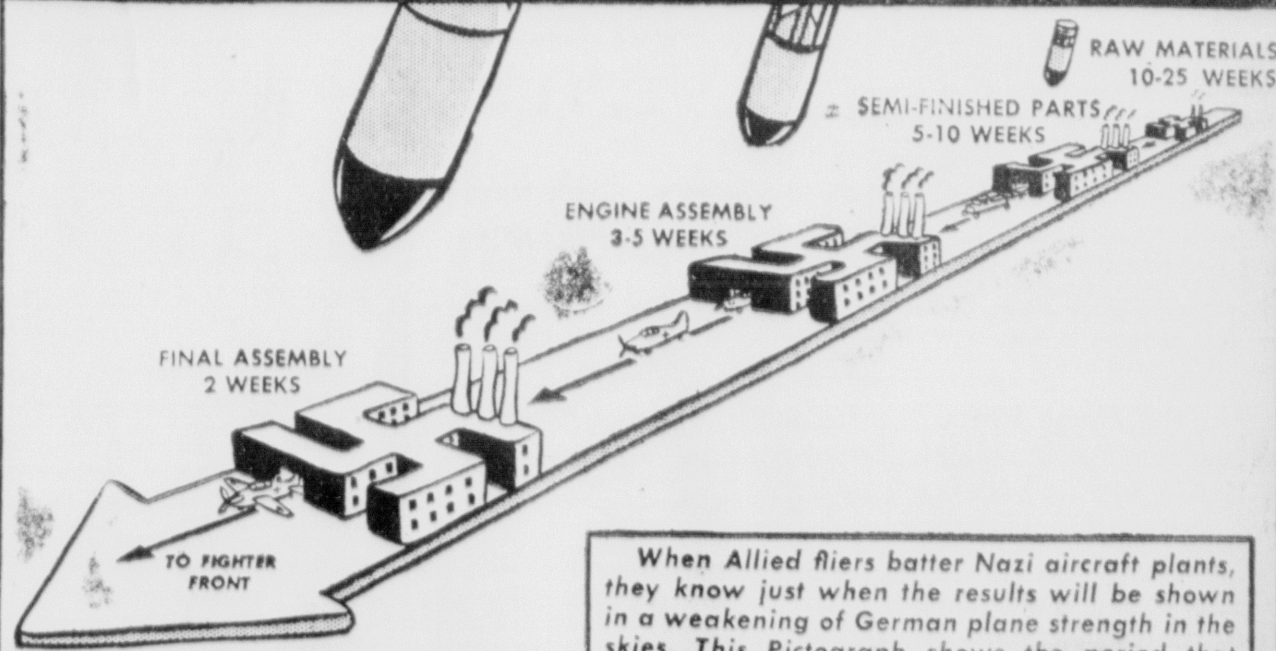

The parents who participated in last Thursday night's meeting are Mrs. Myron L. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schorman, Mrs. Marion Keiser, Mrs. Eva Fuller, Mrs. Leonard Anderson, Mrs. D. E. Conaway, Rev. Harold Knappenberger, Mrs. Floyd Moore, Mr. Mrs. J. C. Ellis, Alan VerMilyea and Ed Bimber.

Representing the local Boy Scout Council in conducting the program were C. Vance Weld, Field Commissioner and Chester R. Seymour, Scout Executive.

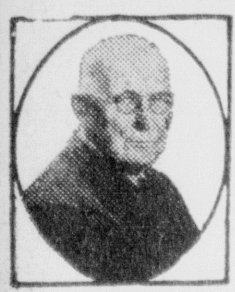

The organizing committee is composed of Ed Bimber, chairman; Marshall Hedges, Mrs. Robert Schorman, J. A. VerMilyea, Mrs. D. E. Conaway and Rev. Harold Knappenberger.

NOT "USELESS"

Three items in the same day's news: twenty-seven American planes—perhaps it is more, perhaps fewer—lost in the air attack on Germany; a bomber crashes in Pennsylvania or Tennessee on a training flight; a fighter plane spins in near some Southern field, and the young pilot dies without ever having seen the enemy.

We accept the battle deaths as an inevitable part of the war. These boys die in battle so that their sons, or some luckier fighters' sons, won't have to. But the lives lost in training are also part of the price of victory.

Let us get this matter straight. The flying fighter's battles begin the day he begins learning how to fight. He must learn how to fight by facing conditions as close as possible to battle conditions. If he does not do this he is a sitting duck to his German or Japanese enemy. And these battle conditions must actually be dangerous or he will not learn his necessary lesson. The war comes to him in the air of his own country. It comes in battle formations, in bad weather, in perilous tests which he must meet here if he is to have a fair chance of survival over there.

The training accident rate is not high in proportion to the number of men involved. It is not interesting. Every precaution, short of those which would impair the quality of training, is being taken. But the trade of air war cannot be made wholly safe to learn.

The pilot, bombardier, navigator, gunner is defending his country just as truly when he is learning as when he is fighting. His sacrifice, if he must make it, is never "unless," his valor never vainly spent. All who fall, at home or over a foreign land, contribute equally to victory, and when the long, sad list is at last completed will stand equal in service and in honor.

DREARY THOUGHT

The wish apparently has become father to the thought. One of the top-ranking OPA executives, Daniel P. Woolley, told 300 rationing board members dining in Baltimore that rationing would not end when war ceased but that OPA would go on "for a long time."

Mr. Woolley undoubtedly can make a good case for perpetuating OPA. There is no doubt about that. Whenever a federal official decides his agency ought to stay on in perpetuity, he always makes a good case. The professors view the future with great foreboding, the theorists weep their crocodile tears, and the do-gooders naively bombard Congress with letters and petitions.

But Mr. Woolley is evidently a sane and sober man. He takes a realistic view of things. He told his aides that he had "a lot of ideas about how OPA should be run, but I'm sure Congress will never put up with them."

If that isn't a confession of OPA's inadequacy to operate within the American pattern, what is it?

The country knows very well that OPA is here to stay for the duration of the war and perhaps for a short period afterward. But the country does not share in Mr. Woolley's hope that it continue for "a long time." Americans, for Mr. Woolley's private information, do not intend to continue OPA ad nauseam.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

An exchange reminds that for a whole year the Germans have been retreating in Russia. Yet, according to the Office of War Information they have lost but one fifth of the territory they held a year ago. Unless the rate can be speeded up, that points to a five-year war.

The Japanese retreat goes even more slowly. In a year they have been forced to disgorge only one-twentieth of their gains.

Things will have to go a good deal faster before the war is over. Increased acceleration is beginning now.

A new warning to motorists and bicycle riders was issued by the police today which should be considered in the light of a safety drive. Crashing of red lights and stop signs must cease in Warren or offenders will be summoned before a police justice. A word in time!

On the Home Front Warren isn't doing so bad—a record number of donors appeared at the Blood Bank at the Municipal building Tuesday.

The one thing you can't afford is to let the men in the service down. Step up and buy more than your share of War Bonds!

The ration book gives Warren wives more tips on what to have for dinner than the cook book.

Swill job of "bombing" those Warren aviators staged yesterday. Seems as though they hit every "target!"

Washington in Wartime

By HOWARD FLIEGER

WASHINGTON—The whiskey shortage has made liquor buyers of people who normally wouldn't give two bits for all the bourbon in Kentucky.

In fact, this hoarding by non-drinkers is one reason why the man who really wants a drink often can't find a drop to take home.

The situation came out as a by-product disclosure of a Senate committee's investigation into the national liquor supply. One witness, a liquor administrator in an eastern state, said the stimulated buying of whiskey by those who never touch the stuff is an established factor in the growing demand for a scarce product.

Paradoxical it certainly is, but committee members can offer an explanation—in fact, several:

Hoarders, they say, will be hoarders. It seems to be a psychological thing. When something starts disappearing from counters the hoarders start laying it in. So when whiskey started getting scarce, hoarders started buying. It isn't that they want the whiskey so much. They just don't want to get caught without it.

INCIDENTALLY, the warehouse stocks of stored liquor continue to bother Senate investigators, who see in storage stocks a means of ending the whiskey shortage and getting some quick cash into the federal treasury.

You can expect an attempt to be made in the new session of Congress to put a federal tax on all whiskey more than four years old. The tax exemption now goes for eight years and officials estimate there are 117,000,000 gallons of seasoned whiskey still too young to pay taxes which would come rolling out of warehouses if the tax ceiling were lowered.

The Senate finance committee killed the proposal once but it will be renewed on the floor of the Senate when the tax bill comes up for debate.

THAT takes care of the out-and-out hoarder. But there are synthetic hoarders among the non-drinkers, some committee members think, who jumped into the retail liquor market because they saw a chance to turn a good thing for themselves. The profit motive probably sent some abstainers off to the liquor store to lay in a pre-shortage supply.

They're the potential hip pocket bootleggers of 1944. When whiskey supplies become short enough their liquor probably will go on sale on a "Joe sent me" basis at prices that will make the Office of Price Administration's bottled goods ceilings look like well worn carpets.

Another non-drinking liquor buyer is the close friend-in-need of the citizen who likes to take a couple before dinner. He buys a bottle for his neighbor. He probably is most prevalent in liquor monopoly states where the state government runs the retail whiskey business. In most such states the dwindling liquor supply is rationed and a bottle is the ration for each adult. The drinker can manage to get two, however, by buying the second through a non-drinking friend.

According to John Berdine in charge of the city garbage disposal plant, ten loads a day are burned at the incinerator at his plant. There is an average of one ton in each load which gives a total of 3100 tons of garbage burned at this one plant. As there are two companies in the city and several farmers haul away garbage there must be an immense amount of waste in the city.

Hair cuts in O. City have been raised to 75 cents instead of 50 cents as was charged for many years. The change in price will go into effect on February 4, according to the press of that city.

Joseph Muller, of the Union Pacific railroad gave an illustrated lecture last evening in the Presbyterian church under the auspices of the Federation of Business Girls. There was a large attendance and the evening was voted as worth while.

In 1934 Midnight tonight is the deadline for turning over all gold to the United States. No "gold coin, gold bullion or gold certificates" may be in the hands of persons after midnight tonight under severe penalty.

Is this what you've wondered about the WAC?

Q. "What kind of job would I do?"
A. Any one of 239 types of Army jobs. All kinds of special skills are needed—clerical workers, medical technicians, mechanics, teachers. Women without experience can get expert Army training—in skills for which they have natural aptitude.

Q. "Where would I be sent? With what branch of the Army would I serve?"
A. Now—you may request your first assignment in the part of the country where you enlist—near enough to get home on a weekend pass. You may also choose your branch of service—Army Ground Forces, Army Air Forces, or Army Service Forces.

Q. "Aren't there enough Wacs without me?"
A. No! General Marshall says: "Many thousands more Wacs are needed." Unless more women join at once, the War Department cannot meet the demands which come in daily from Army Ground Forces, Army Service Forces, and Army Air Forces.

Get full details at the nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station. (Your local post office will give you the address.) Or write: The Adjutant General, Room 4415, Munitions Building, Washington, C. D.

INAUGURATION HELD WITHOUT AUTOMOBILES

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 18.—(P)—Mississippi inaugurated its first new governor since Pearl Harbor today in a setting resembling the gay '90's in 1944 dress.

Gone were the sleek limousines of pre-Pearl Harbor days. Instead, Governor-elect Thomas L. Bailey headed a parade of horse-drawn vehicles of every vintage and description.

Soon after his election as the state's 48th chief executive, Bailey announced that he would use horse-drawn vehicles at the inauguration in line with the federal government's program to conserve gasoline and rubber.

Home Street Pack Meeting Interesting

A Cub circus with "wild cage" animals, trained horses and giraffes, clowns and broken down cars and the presentation of the Cub Pack Charter were features of the first Pack meeting of the Home Street School Mothers' Club Pack No. 1. The meeting was held Friday evening at the Home Street School with a large turnout of parents and Cubs who witnessed the program the Cubs had developed during the last six weeks under the leadership of Cubmaster Sherry Adams; Den Mothers, Mrs. George Brittain, Mrs. Delcie Bimber, Mrs. F. E. Kleshauser and Den Chiefs, Richard Schuler, Warren Lowe and David Winans.

As the boys assembled with their parents they prepared an exhibit of the handicraft work they had done during the month which included carved letter openers, circus wagons and other items in harmony with the Cub Pack Circus theme.

During the Parent's part of the meeting each of the members of the Pack Committee reported on the development in his own department. Each Den presented its stunt which was developed along the circus idea.

During the achievement council part of the meeting the Charter for the Pack was presented to Mrs. Paul Harrington, President of the Mother's Club, by Chester R. Seymour, representing the Organization and Extension Committee of the Warren County council, Boy Scouts of America. The Pack Committeemen and Den Mothers were charged with their responsibilities following which Mrs. Harrington presented them with the membership cards.

Chairman Jack Greenwald then introduced Cubmaster Sherry Adams and Assistant Cubmaster, Francis DeLong and after charging them with the responsibilities of their respective offices presented them with their membership cards.

Cubmaster Adams then called the Cubs to the front of the meeting room and presented each of them with a membership card and Bobcat badge. Several of the boys have already secured uniforms.

Miss Hammerbeck Becomes the Bride Of Eugene Nelson

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hammerbeck, 19 South South street, announce today the marriage of their daughter, Jeanne, to Eugene Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hanson, of Jamestown, N. Y.

The candlelight ceremony having been performed by Rev. Harold Snappenberger in Grace Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. Friday, January 14.

Altar decorations were carried out with white pompons, ferns and palms. Wedding music was provided by the church organist, Jeanne Scott, with Mrs. LeRoy Hammerbeck singing "Because" and "I Love You Truly".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white tulle taffeta fashioned with high neckline, lace yoke and long train. Her long veil was held with flowers and a white orchid decorated her white prayer book. She had as maid of honor her sister, Pfc. Lorraine Hammerbeck, WAC, Fort Dix, N. J., who wore pink chiffon with matching headpiece, and carried Tallman roses. The bridesmaid, Joyce Mize, wore blue chiffon and satin, with matching headpiece, and carried pink roses.

The bride's mother wore wine crepe, black accessories and a white rose corsage and Mrs. Swanson wore black accessories and a pink rose corsage with blue crepe. LeRoy Hammerbeck was best man and ushers were Bert and Peg Hammerbeck.

A reception for 75 guests followed in the church parlors, with 10 members of the family seated at the bride's table. Appointments were in silver and white with pompons and a miniature bride couple topped the three-tier wedding cake. Out of town guests were from Jamestown, Ridgway and New Jersey.

The couple are at home to friends at 45 Chapin street, Jamestown. Since the announcement party given by her mother, the bride has been honored with parties given by Mrs. Richard Phillips and Mrs. LeRoy Hammerbeck; Joyce Mize and Jaye Massa; Katherine Peterson.

Mrs. Ayers Gives Blue Stockings An Unusual Program

Blue Stocking Club members were entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Lutz, with Mrs. R. P. Hemingway assisting and President Ethel Morris conducting business session. Articles were read concerning broadcast programs pertaining to the year's study of Pan American affairs. Mrs. Edith Smith spoke for the consumers' committee, stressing need of continued salvage of tin, waste paper and waste fats and presenting a resume of the salvage committee's report for 1943.

Mrs. Brackett Ayers' subject for the day, "Economic Gifts of Central and South America to the World", brought out many interesting facts from the days of colonial trade in sailing vessels, through steamships, railroads and air travel, stressing the value of the last named method in mountainous country and emphasizing road building programs.

Mrs. Ayers described in detail products which have been developed for world use, coffee and potatoes, native to Peru, corn and bananas; tagua, a substance similar to ivory; quinine from the cinchona tree; tannin and hard wood from the quebocha tree; chocolate, vanilla bean developed from the orchid family, and the native beverage, mate.

To close the afternoon, the hostesses served tea from an attractive table presided over by Mrs. Charles Moore and Mrs. Edith Smith.

The next club meeting will be February 1 at the home of Mrs. E. H. Beshlin, Miss Morris assisting.

Heald and Flood Ceremony Is Read In Home of Bride

A very lovely wedding was solemnized at 2:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Heald, Grant street, when their daughter, Aletha Lohr, was united in marriage with Frank Thomas Flood, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Flood, Parker street.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. O. C. Mingledorff in the presence of the immediate families. Traditional wedding music was provided by Miss Gladys Judd, pianist.

The bride was attired in a frock of powder blue silk jersey with powder blue and black accessories and a shoulder corsage of white roses and bridal wreath. She was attended by her sister, Phyllis, who wore yellow feather flannel

Social Events

COMMUNITY SERVICE DEPARTMENT SESSION

Miss Dorothy Newell conducted the regular meeting of Community Service Department Monday at the Woman's Club, when announcement was made of several coming events. Mrs. J. H. Goldstein, entertainment committee chairman, told of plans for a social-entertainment to be held Monday afternoon, January 31, for members and prospective. Mrs. Alta Chapel spoke on coming salvage projects and announcement was made of the "March of Dimes Tag Day" to be held Saturday by the Zonta Club for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Mrs. W. F. Clinger will be in charge of the program for next Monday's Dramatic Section program.

Speaker for the day was Judge Allison D. Wade, whose topic was the all-important youth problem in the community. During the forum which followed, many questions attested to the members' interest. Mrs. James C. Allen was hostess for tea which followed. Mrs. M. A. Connelly and Mrs. Harriett Wilkins presiding at the attractive table.

LUDLOW MAN WEDS

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Alexander of Meadville announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Ann, to Eugin Wallace William Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hanson, of Ludlow. Miss Alexander is a senior at Allegheny College and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Eugin Hanson is an alumnus of the same school and is a member of Phi Delta Theta. He was president of Phi Beta Phi during his senior year. Eugin Hanson has recently been on furlough after having trained in the Motor Training Center at Melville, R. I., and is now on the way to the west coast.

ALLEN CLASS DINNER-MEETING

Allen Class members of First Methodist church will have a tureen dinner at 6:30 p. m. Thursday in Founders Hall. Mrs. Harold Kelsey reminds each member to bring her own table service, rolls and butter, in addition to a tureen. At the social-meeting following, Miss Erma Eba and Miss Helen Lauffenburger will present the work of the Red Cross.

QUAINTANCE CLASS

with brown accessories and a corsage of Tallman roses. The bridegroom chose his father as best man.

After a small reception immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for a brief wedding trip. Both young people are graduates of the local high school in the Class of '38. Mrs. Flood is employed by the Bell Telephone Company, with which her husband was employed before enlisting in the U. S. Navy. He is now stationed at Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C.

Protect My Kid From Infantile Paralysis

Not all the enemies are over there. One of the most cunning is hiding out on the home front. Call him The Crippler, call him poliomyelitis, call him INFANTILE PARALYSIS! Call him anything you like, but FIGHT HIM.

Track him down. Corner him and destroy him. For he destroys innocent children... My kid, YOUR kid... future citizens of the United States of America and of the world we are fighting and dying to remake.

The "rebirth of freedom" that Old Abe Lincoln had something to say about "let's make it a rebirth of freedom from disease." THAT'S the children's first enemy on the health fronts of America.

"Look, pal! No use trying to keep the news from me just so it won't burden my mind while I got a job to do. I know there was an epidemic of infantile paralysis in 1943—more than 12,000 cases. Third biggest epidemic of this thing in recorded history in the USA.

This was back on YOUR FRONT in 1943.

It was a great break for the kids—your kids and mine—that there was the NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS to fight the Crippler. But fighting costs money. And the docs at home say there'll be another epidemic in 1944 and so long as there is inevitable wartime crowding and mass movement of people.

That's what I can't get off my mind. THAT'S why I want you to support the NATIONAL FOUNDATION'S ANNUAL FUND APPEAL AND ITS MARCH OF DIMES in nationwide celebration of THE PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY.

That's why I've laid my rifle aside long enough to do some straight talking. I'm picking it up again now, for I've got some pretty stiff fighting to do.

AND SO HAVE YOU...

Our Merchant Marine

Tankers

This is a war of petroleum. Not a tank could roll, not a plane could fly and not a gun could fire without it.

The first petroleum was carried in barrels aboard ships. In 1886 the English developed a bulk tanker which could unload in three days instead of a month.

American longshoremen protested and petitioned Congress to halt the building of tankers.

The type continued to increase, however, so that at the beginning of this war we had one-fourth of the world's tankers.

Our tankers now supply all our allied armies. It takes four tankers per fighting day to keep our armies in action in Europe alone.

THIS YEAR, USE BULK LIME

The first delivery of Basic Super 10 BULK LIME on the 1943 Conservation Program, to a farm in Lewis County, West Virginia.

IN 1944, your best lime "buy" is Basic Super Ten, the BULK Lime that's approved by the A. A. A. and is widely used on the Conservation Program in four states. Here are six plain reasons why you should use it this year:

1. Its Quality Is Tops—Basic Super Ten, A. A. A. approved BULK Lime, is a practically 100% pure dolomitic limestone, very high in valuable magnesium, very finely ground, above standard in richness of available soil benefitting oxides, high in neutralizing power.

2. More For Your Money—When you use sacked lime, a large part of your allowance goes to pay for sacks which don't help your soil a bit. That's why with BULK Lime you actually get from 25% to 50% more lime.

3. Easier To Handle—BULK Lime is trucked to you directly from the stock pile or railroad car. It's dumped anywhere. Weather doesn't hurt it. No storage problem. No torn or broken sacks. Moisture content of bulk lime keeps down disagreeable dust.

4. Easier To Spread—BULK Lime spreads rapidly and evenly with a spinner-type spreader on any field you can drive a team and wagon over. You can even spread it in the rain. Hundreds of farmers spread BULK Lime by shoveling from low-wheeled wagons, sleds and stone boats.

5. Our Field Service—Basic Super Ten servicing agents in this county are anxious to help you—especially if you have never tried BULK Lime. Our agents deliver Lime, and frequently can spread it, too. Or they can arrange to furnish spreaders.

6. Easy To Order—When you see the County Conservation Office or Farm Checker about your Lime for this spring, just ask, "How much more Lime will I get if I take BULK Lime instead of sacked?" You'll be surprised. Then you'll tell them—"Put ME down for BULK Lime."

Remember this—Farmers who try out BULK Lime don't go back to sacked Lime.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Tamara Toumanova is "kipping her fingers crossed" about her first movie starring role and so, she says, are a great many of her ballet friends who have written her.

"I am so excited I could die but with so many people holding kind thoughts I know it will be good," she talks rapidly, with her pretty, graceful hands weaving their own choreographic patterns through the air. This premier ballerina fairly dances as she sits and talks, and her eyes, a warm brown in a classically chiseled, olive-skinned face, are dancing, too. Her black hair tumbles over her shoulders, wavy and unrestrained.

Toumanova, Siberian-born in a freight car as her Georgian-princess mother was fleeing the revolution to Vladivostok, is making her feature debut in Casey Robinson's "Days of Glory," story of the current war. She plays a dancer who becomes lost while entertaining at the front and finds hiding with a band of Russian guerrillas headed by Gregory Peck.

SHE plays a dancer but does not dance in the picture, although once she almost begins a demonstration. In her next picture "The Little Green Hussar," again with newcomer Peck, she is also a dancer—but will be seen dancing only in the back row of a chorus line.

"Maybe," she says, "my friends will be angry with me—I am afraid they be very, very mad."

But there's a reason for this departure from the art in which, ever since she was seven when Pavlova made her a protege in Paris, the slim, exotic beauty has gained world fame.

"When I make the ballet short for Warner's, with the Ballet Russe, I get many offers from picture producers, with so much money as I couldn't even dream about. I think they want to make me a star with balletic oomph, and this I do not want. Then I meet Casey Robinson and we talk, and I find he has the idea I should act, express myself what I feel deep in me, in a different way from my acting in ballet. This is so what I want, so now I am in pictures."

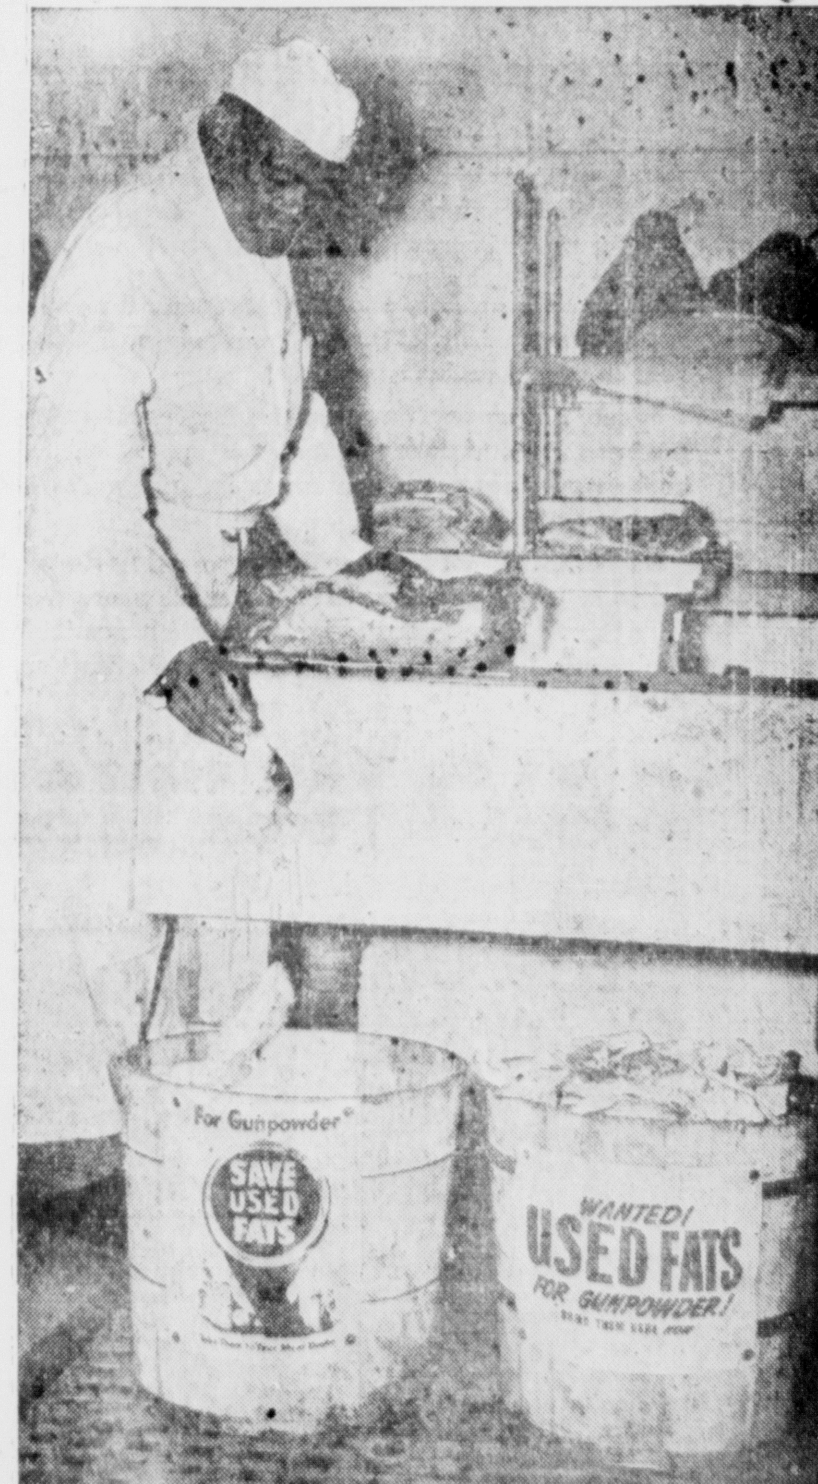

IN A way she finds the movies easier—no complex rehearsals, no touring in crowded trains, no endless practicing of pirouettes, fouettes and whirls. In another she considers them very difficult indeed: a creature accustomed to her art to conquering space, she had to learn to toe a mark and restrain herself within camera range and set limitations.

Now 24, girlish and vivacious, Toumanova intends to return to ballet, even if successful in films, on occasion. "Not in a company, but perhaps with just a partner, and a few couples," she says.

She lives with father and mother in a Beverly Hills home, where she has a room over the garage which she uses for ballet practice—every day.

"I love dancing," she says, "and I will never give it up." Besides, her third picture will be a story of ballet—and she will dance.

Wolves Seen On Crane Run Chasing Deer

For the first time in many years reports of wolves in this county have been brought in by pipe line workers who have been engaged in work on Crane Run. The men report having sighted a wolf several times but this week one of the men saw a deer running rapidly through the woods with a wolf in hot pursuit. The worker drew a revolver he always carries and fired several times at the wolf but did not hit it. The men aver that the wolves must have been in the vicinity as tracks of mature animals and those of pups have been seen.

From the reports the animals seem to be wolves and not coyotes such as have been frequently shot in this section and which are reported in quite large numbers in

Interesting Talk On National Forge & Ordnance Delivered Before Rotary Club Monday

A most interesting and illuminating talk was enjoyed by Rotary Club Monday at its weekly luncheon meeting. The speaker was James H. Kamen, Personnel Director of the National Forge and Ordnance Company and his theme was the company. We print it in full because of its interest to the entire community.

Since so many people in Warren and Warren County are almost entirely unfamiliar with the type of work that is done at the National Forge and our type of organization, I have decided to give you a brief outline on the subject of the National Forge and Ordnance Company in which I will attempt to touch on the high points.

For background I wish, first, to give you a short history of the firm, which starts back in 1914. In May of that year Clinton Wilder, Sr., and Fred McCoy went into partnership on the manufacture of a metal cutting core drill which had been invented by Wilder. To do this they used the facilities of a machine shop available in Erie. After a time Wilder and McCoy felt they had enough business to warrant setting up a shop of their own. They proceeded to purchase the material and machinery they needed and procured a building in Erie. Before they had their plant ready to operate they had received enough orders to assure their first year's business.

In 1916 the men decided to make, rather than buy, the forgings which were necessary in their business. Wilder heard of a small forging shop at Irvine and negotiated for its purchase. At that time the Irvine Forge was a small plant composed of two buildings which had been moved from an old chemical plant near Kinzua and erected at Irvine. It had been under the management of Andrew Miller and E. W. Cooney who had started to make forgings at Irvine in 1911.

The present company started in Irvine in 1916 as the National Forge and Tool Company with 25 employees in the two buildings. The plant was sparingly equipped with two small lathes, a small forging hammer and a few other necessary pieces of machinery. It continued to operate with this equipment until 1917. Then, with the entry of the United States into the war, a heat treating plant was erected and new machinery was added so that the company could heat treat, finish and machine their products.

In 1917 the name of the firm was changed from the National Forge and Tool Company to the National Forge and Ordnance Company.

In 1929 the addition of a melting plant made it possible for the National Forge to manufacture its own steel.

Today the plant covers many acres of ground. Where we had one steam hammer in 1916 we now have four hammers and a large forging press. The half dozen machine tools have been supplemented until we now count our machine tools in hundreds. At the time the company was organized at Irvine the longest building was 90 feet in length. The building which houses our machine shop today is itself more than a quarter mile long.

Contrary to popular conception, our entire production does not consist of cannon and armament. We make a wide variety of open die steel forgings for which we melt and refine the steel and process it completely, including forging, heat treating and finishing machining.

The products as shipped consist of various ordnance parts, crankshafts for diesel engines and other types of industrial machinery, ship and aircraft propulsion parts, pipe molds, piston rods, rolls, etc. Prior to the present war ordnance items manufactured by the National Forge were a very small percentage of our total production, but due to the type of facilities in our plant it was an easy matter to convert to a large production for the war effort. The ability to make this conversion readily plus the fact that we have increased our production by 400 per cent were important factors in getting into the production through which we earned the four-starred Army-Navy "E" flag which we fly from our staff.

Naturally our ordnance production is higher today than in pre-war days, but many of our products are non-ordnance in nature.

Our pre-war markets were largely domestic, but we did export heavy forgings to England, France, South America and Australia. Our foreign trade today is all handled by Uncle Sam and we are pleased to know that he charges plenty for the materials delivered to the Axis.

Since the outbreak of the war our plant has been expanded to double its capacity by the addition of new buildings, a number of specialized machine tools and the increase of our personnel to double the number of employees we had in 1940. None of the additions of buildings and equipment made have been financed through the federal government; all have been financed by the company.

There are few firms in the country with the same facilities for heavy type of production for which we are geared as we have a highly specialized plant and produce specialized products.

On a trip through our plant you would see our electric melting furnaces capable of producing as much as 35 tons of steel in one heat. You would see the ingot which we poured from the melting furnaces heated to 2300° F. and squeezed into shape in a forging press capable of exerting a pressure of 2,000,000 lbs. sq. in.

From the Forge Shop you would follow the forge piece to the rough machine shop where the forgings are placed in huge lathes and other machines and roughed out.

From the rough machine department the forging is sent to the heat treating Dept. for hardening and tempering. Our heat treating plant is unique in that our furnaces are vertical furnaces and the material to be treated is suspended vertically in the furnaces.

After heat treatment the forgings are further rough machined, then bored—if necessary—and finished machined.

Many of our products are finished to a tolerance of half of a thousandth of an inch. Some parts are machined and polished to a mirror-like finish which may be destroyed by the perspiration on the end of a finger and so must be handled with great care after the final cleaning.

I mentioned specialized equipment. You may be interested to know that in addition to our melting and forging equipment we have one heat treating furnace which is of sufficient height to accommodate a 58-foot load hung vertically. We have circular steel cutting saws more than 6 feet in diameter. We have boring lathes with which we can bore holes through shafts and maintain the concentricity of the bore to the outer surface of the shaft within one-thousandth of an inch. Our longest lathe is 125 feet overall length, and several are more than 100 feet long. We have lathes large enough to turn pieces 5 feet in diameter and other lathes capable of boring two shafts simultaneously. Other planers, shapers, milling machines, jig borers, etc. make up the rest of our machine tools. It must be remembered also that most of our products are heavy forgings and this necessitates the use of nearly 50 electric traveling bridge cranes as well as scores of hand cranes to facilitate material handling.

Even though we are isolated geographically, we know that our influence is felt generally throughout the area. We do not consider ourselves alien to Warren as almost 50% of our employees maintain their residences here. The remainder of our employees come from Youngsville and the rest of the county. A few commute from Kane, Jamestown and Tionesta. At present we engage approximately one-fourth of all the war workers employed in Warren county and 8% of ALL the workers in the county.

Our electrical power consumption in one year would equal the amount needed to supply all the residences of Warren and Forest counties for four years. We use in the course of a year, enough fuel oil to heat 2,400 homes for a like period of time.

Our employee morale, we believe, is good. The turnover percentage of our personnel has been considerably lower, in the past year, than the county average and much lower than the area average.

We believe this is due, in part, to our policies of giving our employees as much as possible. Like many plants we offer sickness and accident, life and hospitalization insurances to our workers on a group basis.

Unlike most plants, we furnish the working clothes for shop employees and launder these weekly at no charge to the workers.

It has been a custom of the firm to pay rather than to deduct, the social security taxes.

In addition to these, we are announcing this month an old age retirement plan for our employees.

We also attempt to provide extra-plant activities for our workers. We have a large and pleasant athletic field on which we play baseball and softball diamonds, a skeet field, trap and rifle and archery ranges and a picnic ground.

Adjoining the athletic field is a clubhouse in which is held meetings parties and even weddings. These facilities are open at all times to our employees and their friends.

Our athletic program has been curtailed by travel restrictions but at present we sponsor a basketball team and two bowling teams and anticipate the formation of another baseball team this summer.

I can't pass this section without mentioning our band which is still good in spite of the loss of 50% of the members to the armed forces.

This latter factor has not left the shop untouched. We have been employing women in our shops for several months to meet the needs of our personnel losses and so far have found them satisfactory.

If what I have said so far gives you the impression we have no difficulties, please let me assure you we do. We are in the same position as any other business in dealing with the alphabetic burden of our capital. We have our difficulties in obtaining machines and parts as well as raw material and personnel.

Our isolation makes serious problems at times. Imagine our pleasure when gasoline rationing started with only 3% of our employees living within walking distance of the plant.

We must maintain our own police and fire departments, although we don't hesitate to call for outside help. We do not have a cafeteria although we do have other facilities necessitated by our isolation, including a well equipped and staffed first aid hospital.

We don't know, of course, what we face with the return of peace. However, since the nature of our work will not necessitate extensive retooling, we expect to be able to return to non-war production with little loss of time or effort. The products made by the "Forge" today are all for war consumption or use but our customers are virtually the same as we had prior to the war and we anticipate being able to continue service to these customers in the post-war period.

Pennsylvania Congressmen Go to Bat on Soldier Vote

Washington, Jan. 18.—(T)—Pennsylvania's congressmen, among the first in the capitol to go to bat on the highly controversial soldier vote issue, were still in their taking their cut at the ball this week.

Rep. Gavin, Oil City Republican, a member of the house committee on the election of president, vice president and representatives, issued a statement denouncing the administration's federal ballot plan as "unworkable", "controversial", "unconstitutional" and "cruelly defective"—a plan which "disfranchises service men in the state at local elections", and makes the election of president, vice president and representatives more important function of democracy than the selecting of governors, members of the legislature, mayors and school directors.

On the other side of the argument were Rep. Weiss, Glassport Democrat, who told the house "if it is constitutional for the congress to enact legislation to take soldiers away from their wives and families and jobs and send them thousands of miles away to fight and die for us, certainly, it is constitutional for us to pass legislation to give these boys a girls right to vote this fall."

Also upholding the administration view was another Democrat, Rep. Bradley of Philadelphia, who told the house that congress already passed upon the constitutionality of the matter.

Gavin's statement declared that a federal ballot plan would probably result in thousands of soldier votes being tied up while the constitutionality of the bill was being considered by the court and added:

"But perhaps more objectionable features of the so-called soldier vote bill is the fact that while the so-called federal ballot is in effect, it completely disfranchises service men in the state and local elections."

"Governors in 24 states were elected in the 1944 general election, but no person who filled a federal ballot could participate in the election of a governor or any state, county or city officer. Soldier voting means voting in all offices, from president down to county sheriff, and any proposal which would draw the line between the two, which would give soldiers complete opportunity to vote for federal officials but no opportunity to vote for state officials, is not adequate soldier voting."

In this connection, it is also interesting to note that the Field and Stream Club, at a recent meeting, passed a resolution requesting that the punishment for shooting a human in mistake for game be made more severe than at present.

The investigation into the shooting was carried on by District Game Protector Frank Boen, of New Castle, who had been moved into the territory especially for the bear season and District Protector Carl Benson, of Tionesta. State Police also aided in the work.

For Destroying Waste Paper—

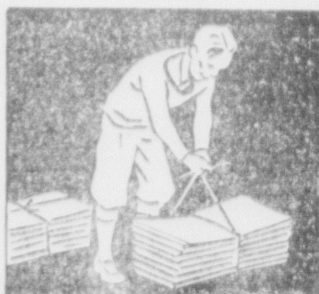

THE IRON CROSS

Everyone who wastes paper by throwing it away or burning it deserves this little tribute from our enemies. For he is serving their cause!

Waste paper supplies a multitude of vital articles used by the men on our fighting fronts. It makes shell containers, bomb rings, gas mask containers . . . It wraps food, blood plasma and ammunition.

Right now waste paper is desperately needed! We've got to collect two million extra tons this year. Won't you do your share? Be proud that you've made it possible to win the war faster . . . bring our boys home sooner! Start saving paper today!

SAVE A BUNDLE A WEEK SOME BOY'S LIFE

THE 'BENDS' SEEM FATAL FOR GERMAN ARMY

By this time the German High Command ought to fear "the bends" as much as do deep-sea divers. The big bends Russian rivers make as they twist toward the Black Sea seem to have a fatal fascination for German generals, who rush their armies into these treacherous pockets and, when threatened by German generals, fail to withdraw before disaster traps them. Map above shows "bend" three sides by the Red Armies, defeat to withdraw before disaster traps them. Dragon Cagers Face Stiff Test Here Friday Night

Blue-White Crushes Falconer 32 to 21 To Avenge Earlier Loss

The Warren Dragon cagers, after dropping an early season game to the Falconer Falcons, came back with vengeance last night in a Battle Court to win 32 to 21 and played their best ball of the year for the victory.

Operating a shifting zone, the cagers never faltered on the defense, while doubling the score in the losers in every session but the final, to win their seventh game of the year against three losses.

From the time Chuck McLean broke the ice in the first quarter with a left-handed hook shot until the middle of the third quarter, it was the Dragon's ball game, and even though the Falcons struck back late in the game, they were quickly taken care of by the locals staged an 8 point run in the first stanza to the cagers' four.

Repeating in the second frame, the locals, led by Chuck McLean, took high gear and pulled ahead to 8 at the half whistle and at the hapless Falcons in check with only four points again.

Falconer picked up a little in the third quarter and began to break through the Warren defense but their shots wouldn't stick and they kept up their consistent scoring by periods by getting four more points while the Dragons racked up 8 with Joe Beyer and Fred Beyer hitting center and bringing up a third quarter score of 25 to 12.

Falconer shots started taking root early in the final stanza and they brought the crowd to its feet once when they came within 8 points on three quick baskets on one of their traditional final-period rallies, but McLean quelled the assault by dropping a field goal at the height of it and took enough fire out for the Dragons to coast through to a 32-21 victory.

The Blue and White looked the best they have this year, playing steady, heads-up ball all the way through and Charley McLean, giving a beautiful performance both on offense and defense, racked up 12 points and was ably helped by Joe Scalise with 12 more to pace them to No. 7 Falconer's Shel Peterson, although held to seven pointers by Finley and Hammerbeck, was the outstanding man for the losers with his tricky floor work and shooting.

Bradford Owls Rated One of Top Teams In State Again This Year

With seven victories in the sack, Warren High School pull their colors up beside the mighty Owls of Bradford Friday night and a lot depends on which outfit wins up with their flag at half-time.

If the locals look against the Owls like they did against Falconer last night when they won 32 to 21, in their best performance of the year, they'll give the McKean county cagers a game they won't forget, while they may get the jitters from advance reports on the Brace menace and hit low against the strongest zone defense in the section.

True, the Owls have lost one game this season, which is unusual for them at so early a date, when they dropped a close one at Jamestown, to a team that was kicked all over by the locals, and followed the performance with a two-point win at Oil City, then last week were forced into an overtime session by Erie East before they emerged victorious.

No doubt, Coach Harold Brace has one of the finest teams in the state, and one that will match anything in scholastic circles, but if the Owls eyes aren't at their brightest, as they have been known to be in the above mentioned, look for the Dragon tail to lash out and pick up some of that Owl meat they have been keeping just out of grasp.

Marshall Is Easy Winner Over Bolden

By LARRY SMITH

Cleveland, Jan. 19—(P)—Lloyd Marshall believes there's no place like home—especially when you're fighting.

The Californian returned to his native Cleveland last night to pound out an easy 10-round decision over Nate Bolden of Chicago in what Matchmaker Larry Atkins billed as a duration light heavy-weight title bout. The win was Lloyd's fourth in five Cleveland appearances and it earned him a March engagement with Joltin' Jake LaMotta, the rough-housing Bronx middleweight. In his other local tussles, the former Golden Glover notched decisions over Anton Christoforidis and Curtis Sheppard, knocked out Edward Charles and belted heavy-weight Jimmy Bivins to the floor before taking the count himself in the 13th.

Rated by ring magazine as the number one active light heavy, Marshall spent much of his time chasing Bolden around the arena ring.

Marshall weighed 168½, two and a quarter pounds less than Bolden. The 5,910 customers contributed $13,394.

Matchmaker Atkins announced the signing of Lightweight Champion Beau Jack for a Feb. 15 engagement in Cleveland public hall.

SPORT SHORTS

New York, Jan. 19—(P)—Ed Levy, who failed to make the grade last spring as a first baseman for the championship New York Yankees, will be given a trial as an outfielder at Atlantic City this spring, the Yankees front office indicated today. At the same time, Pitcher Spud Chandler sent word he expected to be called soon for an army physical examination at his Moultrie, Ga. home. He is 1-A.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 19—(P)—Pitcher Johnny Vander Meer, reclassified 1-A in the draft, leaves today for New York to undergo X-ray examinations and 48-hour observation. The Cincinnati Reds' double no-hit, no-run twirler reported to the Newark induction station yesterday and later said further army examinations would be necessary. Vander Meer previously had been classified 4-F because of a stomach disorder.

DEATH of a Saboteur

By Hulbert Footner

Chapter 30
FTER it had grown dark, a letter bearing a special delivery stamp was brought to the hotel. Lee. It had been posted at the aeral postoffice an hour before. The face became grim as he read it.

Mr. Mappin:
Yesterday before lunch Count Duchin told me a gentleman lent him his residence and we would move out there. As to go on ahead with two servants and he would follow later in the day. I suspected something. A car came to the hotel. I cannot tell you where it came. We drove first to the north, then to the south, about five miles I should say, part of the way through a park. It is a district of very fine houses. We drove through a gateway and stopped before a big house of rough gray stone.

The door was opened by an elderly woman servant. As soon as I closed behind me, I was somewhat warned of danger, and I tried to escape, whereupon the Russians jumped on me and I was down. The woman stood looking on. I shouted for help but she told me it was useless. They tried me upstairs to a bedroom, handcuffed me by my left arm to a steampipe. This permits me to sit on a chair or to lie down on the floor and sleep.

The woman brings me my tea. Yesterday she would talk to me, but today she softened a little and at last she said she would carry a letter out of the house and post it for me if I would give her my ring. I have tried to persuade her to take the ring to you, but she says she can't dare remain away so long, that she can only drop the ring in the nearest mailbox. She says this is the house of Wil Warren; it is called Warren—and is on Argonne Drive.

She says quickly, Mr. Mappin! I convinced them mean to kill Raoul.

Lee was reading over Lee's shoulder. "It's a trap!" he said. "No doubt," said Lee. "The man told me she'd drop it in the nearest box. As a matter of fact, it was brought into the city and posted. That was to make sure it reached me tonight."

"They are using him to entrap you!"

"But I still don't get it. They must know I'm not going out there without taking an adequate force. How do they expect to deal with that? Anyhow, such an appeal calls for instant action."

They went to the local FBI headquarters. In a quarter hour, a force of 10 was ready.

They set out in two cars. After pursuing separate routes, they came together ten minutes later in a handsome, tree-shaded avenue in the suburbs.

Drawing up alongside the curb, they left a man in each car, and proceeded on foot. Entering one by one through a pair of handsome gates, they separated inside, taking advantage of every bit of cover. Welby, gun in hand, stuck to Lee closer than a brother.

After entering the grounds, they neither saw nor heard more of the FBI men. Stealing around the edge of an open space, they moved cautiously from tree to tree, Welby continually glancing from side to side and behind.

"THEY came to a stand in the shadow of a clump of bushes at the edge of another open space. Across a stretch of grass rose the mansion. Every window was black.

They waited. In the soft glow that pervaded the air, they could see pretty well. They saw the chief mount the front steps with two of his men and pause to ring the bell. Time passed. Finally, at a sign from the chief, one of the men raised his arms and they heard the crash of an axe on the wooden door. The men disappeared inside. After a moment within the house, lights began to go on.

"Shall we follow them?" suggested Lee.

The words were scarcely off his lips when Welby yelled: "Look out!" Lee whirled and saw a man aiming a gun at him. He had come around the other side of the bushes. At the same instant, his gun flashed and spoke. Welby fired simultaneously. Lee caught the bullet along the edge of his arm. The man who fired it dropped like a stone in the grass.

Victories In Two Districts By the GOP

publican City Chairman David

W. Harris said the voters "have elected a congressman equipped by background and experience to represent their interests," and hailed election results as "prophe-etic of the Republican trend that will carry Philadelphia next year."

In the 17th district, in Montgomery county, yesterday Samuel

K. McConnell (R) decisively defeated Marvin B. Brunner (D). Complete returns from 191 districts gave McConnell a plurality of 16,254 votes.

McConnell will succeed J. William

Ditter (R), who was killed in an airplane crash near Columbia, Pa., last November 21.

The election of Pratt and McConnell gives the Republicans a total of 209 seats in the house, with five

Why VICKS VapoRub Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason...

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in end-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often more of the misery of the cold is gone in the morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

Warren Man Is Now Pastor At Ridgway

There is much local interest in an impressive service held Sunday morning in the First Evangelical Lutheran church in Ridgway for the installation of a new minister, the Rev. Raymond C. Lauffenburger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lauffenburger, Jackson avenue, who were in attendance.

The installation was conducted by Dr. H. Reed Shepler, president of the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America. The new pastor had charge of the opening portion of the service, with Dr. Shepler bringing to the congregation a message on "Our Common Privileges." The choir sang for the offertory number "Sweet Is Thy Mercy" by Barnby.

At vespers the same evening, Rev. Lauffenburger preached his inaugural sermon on "Every Man His Work," seeking to impress upon his members that each and every one who confesses the name of Christ should be active in His service, doing all that he can to advance the Kingdom.

Pastor Lauffenburger was a member of a class of 44 young men graduated from Mt. Airy Seminary in Philadelphia in June, 1931. He was ordained June 18, 1931, at Greensburg, his own pastor, the late Rev. C. A. Dennig of Warren, preaching the ordination sermon. His first charge included churches at Slippery Rock and Prospect in Butler county.

His graduation from the local high school was in 1923, after which he attended Thiel College in Greenville and was at Mt. Airy for three years.

Willkie Campaign Strategy Revealed

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York, Jan. 19—Wendell Willkie has stopped tooling around and begun his drive for the Presidency. Apparently he feels that no more can be gained from behind-the-scenes sparring, and that the time has come to start slugging.

It was no mere coincidence that Mr. Willkie himself and Gov. William H. Wills of Vermont, in apparently independent nation-wide radio broadcasts on the same day—the eve of the Republican National Committee's gathering in Chicago—split the Willkie appeal into two neat complementary bundles and presented them to the public almost simultaneously.

Mr. Willkie has two tasks. First is to get himself nominated and second is to get himself elected. The first may prove to be much the more difficult, because the 1940 candidate's standing with working politicians is considerably below that with the rank and file membership of his party.

To Governor Wills was assigned the opening barrage aimed at next June's convention. The Vermont executive is not expected to run for office again, so he was in a position to speak his mind very bluntly. This he did.

He tied Alf Landon, John Hamilton, Joseph P. Kamp—foremost anti-Willkieites—with Senator Gerald Nye and Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith—foremost isolationists—and the McCormick-Patterson Press. He denounced them all as "discredited forces of negation" and as "four-year locusts" who "bring nothing but destruction," "had nothing constructive to say," "agreed on no candidate" but "simply agreed in their hatred of the outstanding Republican of our times—Wendell Willkie."

Mr. Willkie himself refrained from any attack upon those GOPers who are trying to prevent his nomination. He made no new scars that might be hard to heal. Instead he began doing what, if he had done it consistently since 1940, would have strengthened him greatly with those who now are bitterest against him. He criticized the Roosevelt administration.

A segment of the GOP would have opposed Mr. Willkie this year for his international attitude, regardless of anything he might have said or done as to domestic issues. But probably a larger portion of his critics consists of those who from the beginning wanted him to do exactly what he did in the opening of his campaign the other day.

He criticized Mr. Roosevelt—not by name—for "the fallacy of one-man government"; for his "failure to establish administrative bodies whose decisions are just and fair and are not subject to capricious overruling that destroys public respect"; for assuming that the American economic system is chronically sick; for administering such "drugs" as seizures of mills, mines and railroads, after permitting the nation to get into so much pain that a narcotic was required.

It is to be assumed that this speech outlined the course which Mr. Willkie proposed to follow in the post-convention campaign if he succeeds in obtaining another nomination.

The division of the task between the candidate and Governor Wills was carefully arranged. So was the timing.

A close associate of Mr. Willkie, who was connected with the 1940 campaign, was in Montpelier, Vt., while Governor Wills' speech was being written, and there he saw not only the governor but several of his confidants. One of these visited New York the day the two speeches were to be made. The same friend of Mr. Willkie arranged for Governor Wills' broadcast.

There is every evidence that Mr. Willkie now is persuaded that he can do nothing more, by diplomatic methods, to curb the attempt to block his nomination by stop-Willkie methods, and has de-
